ON SEPT. 14, 1990, A SPECIALLY MODIFIED GMC PICKUP SET A NEW HISTORY BY CLOCKING 130 MPH AND BY TRAVELING 1000 MILES.

It was done in a matter of days, and in the GMC Truck Division's second year of operation. The pickup, a 1990 GMC 1500, was modified by a team of engineers and technicians at the GM Proving Grounds in Warren, Michigan. The truck was driven on a closed course at the Proving Grounds, where it was pushed to its limits. The result was a record-breaking performance that has never been equaled.
